Biography

Susan Maslow, a Co-Founder and Partner of Antheil Maslow & MacMinn LLP, is an experienced business attorney with a focus on complex transactional corporate law. Throughout her career, Sue has enjoyed working with clients and their other advisors as an integral part of a comprehensive working group focused on solving business challenges. Armed with both good humor and excellent negotiating skills, she concentrates her practice primarily in the documentation of Business Transactions, Corporate Governance, Private Finance, Service and Supply Contracts, and Non-Profit Operations. Committed to delivering precisely drafted documents, Sue believes getting parties with conflicting interests to agree in writing can be tremendously gratifying (financially and emotionally) for all stakeholders.

Since January of 2020, Sue has shifted her focus to responsibilities as Vice Chair of the ABA Business Law Section Uniform Commercial Code Committee's Working Group to Draft Human Rights Protections in International Supply Contracts, and Chair of the Corporate Social Responsibility Law Committee, renamed the Corporate Sustainability Law Committee. She was a chapter contributor and co-editor of an ABA published book in 2023 entitled Contracts for Responsible and Sustainable Supply Chains: Model Contract Clauses, Legal Analysis, and Practical Perspectives.

Additionally, Sue serves as a Senior Advisor to the Responsible Contracting Project out of Rutgers Law School and is a Fellow of the American Bar Foundation. She has authored numerous articles and has been recognized as a "Super Lawyer" in Philadelphia Magazine for her excellence as a corporate attorney. She has also received recognition as Delaware Valley Region Attorney of the Year, Power Players Awards, from Philadelphia SmartCEO Magazine. Sue completed basic Good Shepherd mediation training to further hone her conciliation skills.
